

“At Home in the Dome”

McEachern History in the Georgia Dome

Corky Kell Classic

Carlton J. “Corky” Kell was instrumental in helping create this classic preseason high school football event. This event, in which McEachern is one of the co-sponsors is usually the week before the regulation season begins in the high school season. The site is the Georgia Dome, which has also hosted the Atlanta Falcons, the Olympic Games, Georgia State Football, the Peach Bowl the SEC Championship and the Super Bowl. McEachern players annually look forward to the opportunity to display their talent in this amazing state of the art venue.

Over the past ten years, the Classic has contributed more than $60,000 to the Corky Kell Scholarship Fund. Many deserving Cobb County students have benefited from those scholarships. This fine tribute helps to memorialize the great contributions that Corky Kell made while serving as Head Football coach at Wheeler High School and as county athletic director in his 30 years of service.
